ELECTION OF MONTAGUE SURE

ington to Dine Has Aroused White Democrats.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

NORFOLK, VA., Oct. 19.-Democratic politicians here express their belief that President Roosevelt, by inviting Booker President Roosevelt, by inviting Booker Washington to dine with him; at the White House, insured the election of A. J. Montague, Democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia, and the defeat of his Republican opponent, J. Hampton Hoge, at the November election now imponding Judge James E. Heath said that the Judge James E. Heath said that the lines between the parties, almost effaced by President McKinley, were sharply re-drawn by President Roosevelt, and the white voters, wavering and apathetic to a Cegree, which made Hoge's election quite possible, will now go to the polls almost to a man and vote the Democratic ticket. District Democratic Chairman W. W. Dey, while claiming that Montague's lection is certain anyway, said that his majority will be swelled largely by the President's action. Local newspapers in editorials condemning the President's action reflect the sentiment of the people, many of whom trembled with snger when they expressed to the correspondent their believe that the President's action was a deliberate effort to brak the color line and inaugurate social equality between the races and express horror and indignation for the act and contempt for the actor. The President's move when he "crowned the black" has lost to him the respect of the Southern people if all feel as those hereabouts do.

TRAVELING MEN MEET.

Matters of Interest to Post A Were Discussed. The monthly meeting of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association of America, was held at the headquarters, Third and Main Streets last night at 8 o'clock. Mr. L O. Miller, vice-president of the Post, presided, and Mr. P. A. S. Brine, secretary, recorded the minutes.

The chairmen of the standing committees made their reports, which were adopted.

The committee appointed to take charge of the Carnival booth and make a success of the "Country Store," through its chairman, C. W. Saunders, and vice-chairman, L. O. Miller, made their report, and it was shown that they fully realized what they started out to do. A vote of thanks was tendered to the entire committee for the valuable work performed in the interest of the great association. It was decided to refer the matter of week-end tickets to the Railroad Committee, with the request that they try to secure this concession from the railroads as early as possible. The week-end tick-ets will allow a traveling man to come home on Friday nights or Saturday morn ings, spend Sunday with his family, and return Monday mornings. A number of complaints were made by members of the association, some of whom were heads of houses, regarding the delay in receiving freight at a certain depot in Richmond. Several members were promptly appointed a committee to wait on the assistant general freight agent of this road and request him to take the necessary steps to remedy this matter. Addresses were made concerning mat-ters of vital importance to the association by Messrs. R. Poindexter, Col. John S. Harwood, R. W. Spilman, R. S. Crump, Julien Binford, J. H. Capers, Jr., and John B. Culpeper, the special correspondent for Virginia Division, and R. B. Wal-thall, chairman of the Press Committee of Post A, were at their desks busily reporting the deliberations of the meeting.

CHLOROFORMED BY ROBBERS. Miss Bryant Suffering from the Effects of Her Recent Experience.

Miss Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bryant, of No. 207 South Pine Street, who on Tuesday night was probably chloroformed by a burglar, is suffering with nervous spells. Her mother is also very nervous as a result of the fright she experienced. The work of the burglar, or burglars, at the Bryant residence makes quite an interesting story. They made their entrance to the dwelling, which is situated in the middle of the block, by raising the kitchen window. They at once repaired to the dining-room and completely ransacked it. Every drawer and box was searched and their contents scattered in every direction. Money was the thief's object, as the silverware was untouched and a small bank in the sideboard, containing several dollars, was carried off. The burglars visited every room in the house and left nothing untouched that showed evidence that it contained money. In order to en-ter the buffet they cut a wooden key to fit the lock. They entered the bureaus, wardrobes, trunks, and sewing maching in the same way. They went to the sleep-ing apartment of Miss Bryant and ransacked her trunk, after using a wooden key to enter, and scattered everything. Their next visit was to the bed occupied by Miss Bryant and her younger sister In robbing the trunk, and in order that they might not be seen while making the wooden key, they pulled down the lace curtains, placing them on a chair. The men were thus hidden from view. From the manner in which Miss Bry ant's bed was torn to pieces, she and her sister must have been chloroformed, as they did not wake during the robbery. Miss Bryant was relieved of about $80, which was in a purse between the mattresses. On leaving the thieves vis ited the pantry and carried away 25 pounds of sugar and a large quantity of coffee.

Roosevelt by Inviting Booker Wash- Mr. John Carter's Skull Crushed by Serious Outbreaks in Island of Samoa Disturb Authorities

Considerably.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, October 19 .- One of the and serious attention of Secretary Root on his return to this city next week, will be the military situation in the Philip pines. The recent serious outbreaks in the Island of Samar have disturbed the authorities seriously.

There is no longer any prospect of a substantial reduction in the strength in the Philippine army for some time to come. In fact, the latest advices from General Chaffee contain arguments against any reduction of the army at this time, except as required by the expiration of emistments. As pointed out by Gen-eral Corbin in his annual report, the army will lose nearly 2,000 men a month on this account. The War Department officials are now thinking how to meet this prospective deficiency without impairing the efficiency of the military establishment in the Philippines.
General Chaffee has said that he will require three extra transports to assist in bringing home the short-time men within the next six or eight months. The quartersmaster's department has selected the transports Meade, Rosecrans and Egbert for this special service. Other vessels which will be utilized in taking troops to the Philippines are the Grant, at San Francisco, and the Crooke, at New York The former, which expected to leave about the middle of next month, will carry out an entire regiment with its equipment and the Crooke will take the nucleus of regiment and a number of recruits about December 1st.

LONDON, Oct. 19 .- Hall Caine has con sented to become a candidate for the Manx Parliament in behalf of the town of Ramsay. His opponent is a local law

Mr. Caine's address has created consternation, even among his own supporters, for he advocates sweeping changes. Mr. Caine wants to nationalize the steamship service connecting the Isle of Man with England, running i without profit. Then he applies himself to the Manx steam and street railways, and would furnish the same radical sys tem to them. Land must be treated in a somewhat similar manner, the Manx Parliament controlling the drainage, culivation and tree planting. The banks, of course, are included in this nationaliza ion scheme, by which Mr. Caine believed hat such financial scandals as occurred in the Isle of Man last year would be

RANDOLPH-MACON GIRLS.

They Took Active Part in the Carnival Fun and Enjoyed It.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LYNCHBURG, VA., Oct. 19.—The col-ege spirit at Randolph-Macon Woman's College has in some degree, but reflectded the spirit of the city during the week. The Carnival liberty has reached them, too, and on Tuesday the college colors— lemon and black—were almost as much seen on the streets as the red, white and biue. The greater part of the girls watched the floral parade, went to the tournament, waved ribbons, blew girls watched the floral paranes, went to the tournament, wave ribbons, blew horns, threw confetti, had confetti and powder thrown on them, and came home in the afternoon asserting that they were by no means tired; had had a "grand time," and "do hope they will give us another day holiday."

The recitations of Wednesday morning cannot be be vouched for, but that it was a day of work was plainly to be seen from the altered expressions that graced the tables at breakfast time. Instead of the anticipatory beaming, there was a sort of reflective meditation depicted on their faces, whose calm was just a bit disturbed by doubts as to the probability of their escaping a quiz.

On the preceding Saturday night at one of those delightful home-evenings which come every two weeks during the college year, the music faculty entertained come every two weeks during the college year, the music faculty entertained the household with a musicale in the chapel and afterwards with a reception in the pariors and corridors. The professors furnished all the music and it was most delightful, and was especially appreciated by the girls, who hear them so seldom and have to be heard by them so often. The reception gave a high social tone that it would otherwise have lacked, and the two together made a most charming evening.

On Monday afternoon the Juniors and Seniors, at the invitation of the latter, went nutting, but owing to a most peculiar prenomenon whereby some overlanging clouds stripped the trees and took the nuts upward before they could

The clouds inconsiderately began to let down water instead of the stolen nuts, and they were forced to seek shelter in a neighboring church, where that non-musical English profeswhere that non-miscal legisle porters or played gospel hymns on a small organ. It is trudy wonderful what people can be induced to do on picnics. The wagons returned at supper-time a mass of bright-colored fall foliage and the shouts of "grand time!" surpassed even those uttered after the carnival. Long walks have become very much Long walks have become very much the fashion among the girls here, and the "mile and a half of walks laid out and graveled within the campus" does not satisfy them at all. Even the girls from the flat fields of Georgia seem to delight in climbing the hills and the regular walk for them every afternoon is five miles. It cannot be prophesied what the officer of this fancy will be on the the effect of this fancy will be on the shoe trade or on the size of the Southern girl's foot, but the effect upon their faces is very evident. Among many pretty complexions there are none prettier than those of the walkers as they brisk-ly answer the supper gong at night. There is a great deal of loyalty among

No. 1102 Hull Street. It was learned here yesterday that Messrs. Gregory and Crowder, the Independent candidates for the Legislaturs, who withdrew from the race last Monday at Chesterfield Courthouse, had perhaps not notified the clerk of Powhatan county of their withdrawal. Unless they did so immediately, their names will go on the regular ticket in that county. Clerk Duval, of the Hustings Court of Manchester, was seen and said their names were withdrawn in Manchester and Chesterfield.

In the event that their names are placed on the regular ticket in Powhatan, the regular nominees might be made to suffer unintentionally.
